

Expanding team

HFS Milbourne Financial Services, the Guildford-based independent financial adviser, has appointed Rebecca Porter as paraplanner. Expanding the team of paraplanners at HFS Milbourne to three, Rebecca will advise clients in her specialist area of investment and trusts.

Holding the G10 taxation and trusts qualification, Rebecca provides specialist tax and trust advice in respect of personal and corporate clients.

With more than 10 years industry experience, most recently at Standard Life, Rebecca also holds the Financial Planning Certificate (FPC), an examination approved by the Financial Services Authority (FSA), which demonstrates an understanding of the financial services market.

Colin Hayden-Cook, joint managing director at HFS Milbourne Financial Services, commented: 'With Rebecca joining the team, we are on target for reaching our growth targets for this year. We are always looking to recruit people who have practical industry experience combined with qualifications.'

'As an employer, we maintain this by supporting all our staff in terms of professional and personal development, ensuring we are able to offer the highest quality service to our clients.'

In addition to personal wealth management, HFS Milbourne Financial Services offers independent advice on a wide range of services including employee benefits, pensions, corporate
