

SLS Investment seminar attracts top City speaker

Justin Urquhart Stewart, one of the UK's leading financial commentators and former City Personality of the Year is in Guildford next month as guest of honour at a SLS investment seminar hosted by SLS sponsor, the wealth management company, HFS Milbourne.

The event takes place on Wednesday 15 October at G Live! Guildford and runs from 9.00 am to 2.30 pm with complimentary refreshments and lunch provided. Justin will look at the investment markets and provide an economic update after which there will follow a Q and A session.

Justin is one of the industry's most recognisable and trusted financial experts and as a well-known media figure he makes regular appearances on the television and radio. He has a keen interest in broadening the appeal of the investment markets to both private investors and SMEs and was involved in the original development of the AIM market and the investor educational company, Proshare. Justin is a co-founder of Seven Investment Management which manages around £6.6bn of assets on behalf of wealth managers and other professional intermediaries.

"Justin has considerable experience following the ups and downs of the markets and his observations and assessments are keenly followed by both professional and amateur investors. We are therefore delighted and privileged to have Justin as key note speaker and we will no doubt benefit from his insightful comments on market sentiment and investment prospects, both for the UK and the wider world," said Rod Milne for HFS Milbourne.

The programme includes an address from Iain Halket, Chair of HFS Milbourne investment committee on modern portfolio management and a post Budget pensions update from Edward Nice, a chartered financial planner at HFS Milbourne.

Entry is free to active members of law societies in the south east and carries 3 CPD points. RSVP to Sue Seakens at Surrey Law Society to reserve a space:
